PREAMBLE.

Whereas, We, the undersigned, discharged soldiers and sailors of the United States, being desirous of forming an organization having for its object the maintenance of our best interests, and the fostering of that heroic spirit which led us forth to battle in a sacred cause, and to secure to ourselves a proper recognition of our just claims, among which are the following:

Second. To obtain from government an equalization of the bounties of the soldiers of 1861 and 1862, with the bounties paid to those enlisting later in the war.

Third. To procure employment in the general pursuits of life for our comrades who may need such assistance.

Fourth. To urge upon the government and the people the just claims of honorably discharged soldiers, and the widows and orphans of our fallen comrades, that a speedy settlement of their claims may be made, and that the condition of widows and orphans may be ameliorated.

Should no member offer to speak he shall rise to put it; and after he has risen no member shall be permitted to speak without his permission. While he is putting a question, or addressing the League, no one shall walk out of or across the room, or entertain any private discourse.

2. The President shall have a casting vote in case of a tie, but in ordinary shall not vote. He shall announce all votes and decisions. His decisions on points of order shall not be debatable, unless entertaining doubts upon the subject, he invite discussion.

3. He may speak to points of order in preference to other members of the League, rising from his seat for that purpose, and shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the League by any two members, which appeal shall not be debatable.

4. When an appeal is taken from the decision of the President, he shall put the question thus— "Shall the decision of the Chair be sustained?"

5. A motion must be seconded, and afterwards repeated from the Chair, or read aloud before it is debated. A motion shall be reduced to writing if the Recording Secretary shall request it.

6. All resolutions shall be submitted in writing.

7. When a member speaks or offers a motion, he shall rise in his place and respectfully address the President, and shall not proceed to speak until he is recognized by the President; he shall confine himself to the question under consideration, and avoid personality or unbecoming language.

8. When a member is called to order, he shall take his seat until the point is determined.

9. When two or more members rise to speak at the same time, the presiding officer shall decide who is entitled to the floor.

10. Any member having made a motion may withdraw it, with leave of his second, before it is debated, but not afterwards, without leave of the League.

11. No member shall speak more than twice, nor longer than ten minutes each time, on any question, without leave of the League, which leave shall be granted or refused without debate.

12. While a member is speaking no one shall interrupt him, except for the purpose of calling him to order, or asking of the presiding officer leave to explain. A member allowed "to explain" shall only have the right to explain an actual misunderstanding of language, and shall be strictly prohibited from going into debate on the merits of the case.

13. For any member speaking to impeach the motives of a fellow member, or treat him with personal disrespect, or to pass between him and the Chair while he is speaking, shall be deemed a violation of order, which may incur the censure of the presiding officer, or of the League.

14. It shall be the duty of the presiding officer, and the privilege of any member of the League, to call a member to order who violates an established rule of order.

15. Any conversation, by whispering or otherwise, which is calculated to disturb a member while speaking, or hinder the transaction of business, shall be deemed a violation of order, and, if persisted in, shall incur censure.

16. When the decision of a question is doubted, the presiding officer will cause the votes in the affirmative and negative to be counted.

17. When a question is before the League, the only motion in order shall be, 1st, to adjourn; 2d, to lay on the table; 3d, the previous question; 4th, to postpone to a day certain; 5th, to commit; 6th, to amend; 7th, to postpone indefinitely; which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged, and the first three to be decided without debate.

18. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except, 1st, when a member is in possession of the floor; 2d, while the yeas and nays are being called; 3d, when the members are voting; 4th, when adjournment was the last preceding motion; or 5th, when it has been decided that the previous question shall be taken.

19. When the previous question is moved and seconded by one-third of the members present, the main question shall be put, and all further motions, amendments, and debates shall be concluded, and the question shall be put without delay. If the question has been amended, the question shall be taken on the amendment first. If more than one amendment has been made, the last made amendment shall take precedence in the vote.

20. A motion to amend an amendment shall be in order, but to amend an amendment to an amendment shall not be entertained.

21. When the presiding officer has commenced taking a vote, no further debate or remark shall be admitted, unless a mistake has been made, in which case the mistake shall be rectified, and the presiding officer shall recommence taking the vote.

22. When any blank is to be filled by the names of persons, a vote shall be taken on the names in the order of their nomination ; but when a blank is to be filled by any sum of money, or time, proposed, the question shall be first put on the largest sum, and the most remote time.

23. A question may be reconsidered any time during the session, or at the first regular session held thereafter ; but a motion for reconsideration being once made and decided in the negative, shall not be renewed.

24. A motion to reconsider must be made and seconded by those who voted in the majority. No question shall be reconsidered more than once, nor shall a vote to reconsider be reconsidered. To reconsider any resolution, &c., the decision of which has officially passed out of the League, shall not be in order.

25. A motion to repeal or rescind a resolution shall be submitted in writing.

26. The yeas and nays upon any question before the League may be called for by two members, and upon the assent of one-fifth of the members present shall be so taken.

27. In taking the yeas and nays the Recording Secretary shall call the roll and record the yeas and nays ; after the roll has been called the result shall be read aloud to rectify mistakes, if any, after which the Recording Secretary shall hand the vote to the President who shall announce the same.

28. In voting by yeas and nays all present in regular standing in the League must vote, unless excused by the League, but no member shall vote who was not in the room at the time the question was put. A motion to excuse shall be decided without debate.

29. The reading of any paper called for relating to the subject under debate shall always be in order.

30. All reports of committees, except reports of progress, shall be made in writing and signed by a majority.

31. When a majority report is followed by a report from the minority of a committee, the former, after being read shall lie upon the table until the latter is presented; after which, on motion, either may be considered.

32. When a report has been read it shall be considered as properly before the League, without a motion to accept.

33. The member first named in the appointment of committee shall be Chairman of the same, and shall call the committee to meet at such time and place as he may elect; but when thus convened, the Committee may elect its own Chairman and Secretary.

34. The above Rules of Order may be altered or amended by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any regular meeting of the League.
